

JUN 29 1957

Approved For Release 1999/09/08 : CIA-RDP75-0000

FOIAb3b

CPYRGHT

Charles Breckinridge

Charles David Goodrich Breckinridge, 49, formerly in charge of the Baltimore office of the Central Intelligence Agency, died Thursday in Union Memorial Hospital, Baltimore, after a long illness.

Mr. Breckinridge had been a CIA employe from 1950 until he retired in 1956. He frequently commuted to the District on business.

Born in New York City, he was educated at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., Harvard, and the University of Virginia Law School. During World War II he was a lieutenant commander in the Navy.

Surviving are his wife, the former Frances Pinckney, and two children, Isabella G. and John C., all of the home address, 1103 Harriton rd., Baltimore; his mother, Isabella Goodrich Breckinridge of York, Maine; a brother, Robert of New York City and a sister, Mrs. Jefferson Patterson, whose husband is ambassador to Uruguay at Montevideo.

A service will be held at 11 a. m. today in the Church of the Redeemer (Episcopal) in Baltimore. Burial will be in York, Maine.